Other State Medicaid Programs

Occasionally, a Wisconsin Medicaid provider may be asked to provide services to a recipient from another state who possesses a valid Medicaid ID card issued by the recipient's state of residence. To ensure reimbursement for these services, it is recommended that you be familiar with applicable regulations established by the Medicaid program in the recipient's state of residence. Submit claims for recipients from other states directly to that state's Medicaid program. Claims will be reimbursed in accordance with policies and rates established by that state. Wisconsin Medicaid does not pay for services provided to recipients covered under another state's Medicaid program.

The following list includes the telephone numbers and addresses of Medicaid program offices in each of the other participating states. Providers are advised to contact these offices to determine whether the service sought is a covered service under that state's Medicaid program.
